

Contents

	Acknowledgments	vii
	Introduction	ix
One	Domesticity and Duplicity: The Rhetoric of the Higher Education Movement	1
Two	Living on the Moon: Jane Eyre and the Limits of Self-Education	24
Three	From English Governess to Orientalist Scholar: Female Pedagogy and Power in Anna Leonowens's The English Governess at the Siamese Court	46
Four	"At once narrow and promiscuous": Emily Davies, George Eliot, and Middlemarch	70
Five	"Strange [in]difference of sex": Thomas Hardy and the Temptations of Androgyny	101
	Notes	129
	Works Cited	141
	Index	149