

Old, Old April

So many springs have passed me now
With sweet sound of birdsong
And peeper chorus,
The drum roll of sudden showers,
And cloud fleets coursing
blue, blue skies.
My vintage wine comes
In old, old bottles, yet
Still sweet to the tongue,
With flowers of yesterday.